

ABOUT:

Founded in 1983, Noah Homes is leading the way for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) and their families.

As a nationally recognized best practice model, Noah Homes pushes the boundaries of innovative residential care, advocacy, and inclusive community services.

FAST FACTS:

- The average age of a resident is 49 years old; our youngest is 25 and a 78-year-old is our most senior!
- Two of our original 6 residents who moved to Noah Homes in 1983 are still with us.
- We have an interest list of over 200 families.
- Noah Homes collaborates with government bodies and other organizations as an advocate for the 615,000+ people with developmental disabilities in California and the hundreds of thousands of others across the country.
- Noah Homes has the first memory care homes in California designed to serve adults with memory loss and I/DD.
